

Taller KEN with PULSE

Heartstrings

In Times Square everything is about people. Heartstrings uses thousands of yards of colorful plastic strings to give the feeling of a handcrafted design reminiscent of traditional weaving techniques and creates a textural work of public art.

Overlapping string panels combine with painted steel frames and vibrant flooring to create a photogenic backdrop for the variety of activities, planned or spontaneous, in Duffy Square, and allows viewers to engage with the artwork becoming part of the installation.
